
Agreement on 350kW Foldable Container for Catering Industry

What sizes are available for mobile catering units?

We've come up with a standard package for mobile catering units, the MenuBox[®], available off the peg in five different sizes, including the standard size 20ft container. This keeps the costs down and enables a simple but highly effective structure when buying catering conversions.

Are shipping containers a good choice for catering units?

Robust, portable and quick to install, shipping containers provide an ideal foundation for catering units where mobility and security are essential. All our catering pod conversion work is carried out in our own workshops, by a team of professional and skilled tradesmen.

Who are containers direct?

Containers Direct specialise in producing container conversions for all types of catering businesses. Whether you're planning to start a simple pop-up hot dog stand or sandwich van, to a gourmet kitchen and bar. If your dream is a burger van, fish and chip kiosk, or simply a coffee trailer, then you've come to the right place.

What are shipping container food trailers?

As experts in designing and constructing food trailers and custom shipping containers, we've turned a remarkable concept into reality - shipping container food trailers. These innovative creations combine the mobility of concession trailers and the durability and industrial looks of shipping containers.
